ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

Director, Institute for Latino Studies (ILS), University of Notre Dame, 2017-Present, Co-Director 2015-17. Fundraising to grow several endowments at ILS including the Endowment for Excellence. Work in collaboration with the Dean of Arts and Letters to establish and fund the Latino Studies Scholars Program (LSSP) that provides merit-based scholarships to students interested in Latino studies. Collaborate with twenty-six affiliated faculty fellows, establish scholarly and curricular programs, budget of $1M, and five professional staff.

Acting Chair, Department of Political Science. Administrative duties including faculty renewals, promotions, and tenure. Department with 52 faculty and 10 staff.

Associate Vice Provost for Faculty Advancement, University of Washington, 2007-2014. Work directly with the provost, vice provosts, deans, and department chairs to develop action plans and strategies to recruit, retain, and promote faculty with research and teaching interests related to underrepresented, understudied, and underserved communities across all fifteen colleges and professional schools. Develop training, mentoring, and informational programs. Manage individual cases of hiring, promotion, and retention. Provide guidance to all parties involved in faculty recruitment, retention, and promotion.

Director, Diversity Research Institute, University of Washington, 2007-2014. Develop programs to support faculty and graduate students conducting research focused on generating new, interdisciplinary knowledge about diversity, social justice, and institutional transformation. Among the programs developed are seed grants competitions, speaker series, travel grants, community outreach, and academic conferences.

Chair, Committee on Graduate Studies, Stanford University, 2003-04. Responsible for leading the university-wide committee that reviews and assesses all inter-departmental and interdisciplinary graduate programs in the medical sciences, natural sciences, engineering, humanities, and social sciences.

Director, Undergraduate Studies, Department of Political Science, Stanford University, 1994-1996, 1999-2002. Responsible for oversight of undergraduate curriculum and teaching, undergraduate advising, and supervision of undergraduate administrator.

Vice-Chair, Faculty Senate, Stanford University, 1997-1998. Served as member of the Executive Council of the Faculty Senate to review and set agenda for faculty senate meetings. Included frequent meetings with Provost.

Director, Graduate Studies, Department of Political Science, Stanford University, 1996-98. Responsible for oversight of graduate curriculum and teaching, graduate advising, administration of doctoral examinations, distribution of graduate fellowships, and supervision of graduate administrator.

Director, Stanford Center for Chicano Research, Stanford University, 1993-96. Responsible for oversight of $250,000 annual budget, five professional staff, fundraising, alumni relations, publications, and administration of research grants.

SELECTED ADMINISTRATIVE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Task Force on DACAmented and Undocumented Students at Notre Dame. With the support of the Office of the President and under the authority of the Office of the Provost and the Vice President for Student Affairs, worked to provide legal counsel to DACAmented and undocumented students at Notre Dame. Conceptualized and designed use of local immigration attorneys to provide full review of the immigration status of our students with Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals designation as well as those who are undocumented without such status. Collaborated with the Office of the General Counsel to provide university-based funding for this review. This program was formally announced in October 2017 and is now being implemented. Impact: Supported our cohorts of undergraduate students in such status; demonstrated ND's commitment to live the Gospel regarding all immigrants and their families.

Two-Way Immersion Program, Holy Cross School, South Bend, IN. Led the collaboration of the Institute for Latino Studies (ILS) with the English as a New Language Program (ENL) in the Alliance for Catholic Education (ACE) to establish the first-ever Spanish-English, two-way immersion program in a Catholic school in the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend. Conceptualized administrative plan, outreach strategy, pedagogy, and teacher selection criteria for the program. Participated in the evaluation of teacher hiring. Program welcomed twenty-four students to the class at the pre-kindergarten level in 2017-18. For the first-time in the last twenty years this grade was filled to capacity. Fifty percent of the students are Spanish-dominant and fifty percent are English-dominant. Plan is to scaffold a grade each additional year until the program is available in pre-kindergarten to the eighth grade. Impact: Renewed commitment of school and parish to rebuild the enrollment of Holy Cross School that has been declining for the last twenty years.

Warrior-Scholar Project (WSP), University of Notre Dame. Collaborated with the Office of the Provost to bring the WSP to the University. The WSP is a national program to provide a one-week, academic boot camp enrichment opportunity to military veterans and those planning to leave military service. Fifteen students in first ND cohort in summer 2017; program has funding to continue into the future. Also taught the seminar session on "The Civil War and Reconstruction" as part of the ND-WSP seminar. Impact: Further strengthened ND's long-standing commitment with the U.S. armed forces; demonstrated that ND is willing to share its resources with those who have given to the country, regardless of whether those students would ever enroll at Notre Dame.

Latino Studies Scholars Program (LSSP), University of Notre Dame. Conceptualized, established and funded the first in the nation undergraduate four-year, merit-based, $25,000/yr. scholarship program, including additional $5,000 summer enrichment funding, for students "interested in and committed to the future of Latino communities in the United States." Raised initial endowment of $6.67M by working with the Office of the General Counsel, Office of University Relations, and Dean of the College of Arts and Letters to repurpose major gift given to Notre Dame twenty years ago. Established selection criteria and review processes with the Office of Merit Scholarships in the Office of Admissions. Selected the first cohort of four LSSP scholarship recipients who were admitted for 2017-18. Students chosen regardless of racial or ethnic background and regardless of family income. Goal is to raise an endowment of $35M to have annual cohort of sixteen LSSP scholarship recipients. Impact: Has brought renewed commitment to ND's original mission, i.e., to provide educational opportunities to predominantly immigrant and immigrant-origin, working class, Catholic families and their children; demonstrated that ND values the commitment of students to work with communities that comprise a very important part of the future of the Catholic Church and the future of the U.S.

Transformative Latino Leadership Lecture Series (TLLLS), University of Notre Dame. Conceptualized and implemented new lecture series to expose students to major national leaders affecting the U.S. and the Catholic Church. Among the distinguished invited speakers have been Sonia Sotomayor, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, in collaboration with the Office of the President and the ND Law School (2015), The Most Reverend Jaime Soto, Bishop of the Diocese of Sacramento (2016), Gloria Molina, first Latina ever elected to the California State Assembly, Los Angeles City Council, and Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors (2017), and The Most Reverend José H. Gomez, Archbishop of Los Angeles and Vice-President of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (2017). Impact: Administrators, faculty, students, and staff as well as larger South Bend community members have been able to benefit from interview conversations, meetings, and discussions.

Faculty Code Expansion, University of Washington. Conceptualized, strategized, and implemented the most significant changes in the merit standards for appointment and promotion in the Faculty Code of the University of Washington to include excellence attained in diversity and inclusion regarding research, teaching and service. After five votes by various committees and the entire Faculty Senate, was able to secure a vote of 77.6% of faculty in favor of proposed changes. Major players: President, Provost, Attorney General's Office, Chair of Faculty Senate, Executive Council of the Faculty Senate, Faculty Council on Faculty Affairs, and Faculty Council on Multicultural Affairs. Impact: 15 colleges/schools including College of Arts and Sciences, School of Medicine, School of Law, and Foster School of Business; 300+ annual new hires; 200+ annual tenure and promotion reviews.

Faculty Inclusion Briefings, University of Washington. Conceptualized, strategized, and developed briefing sessions for chairs of all search committees on building an inclusive and representative faculty. Will recommend that a new rule be implemented that all chairs of search committees must participate in these trainings before they can serve. Major players: Provost, Faculty leadership at UW, UW Tacoma, and UW Bothell. Will then take it back to the Provost and Board of Deans for final approval. Impact: 300+ annual searches and potential new hires; integration with university-wide Diversity Blueprint that is considered by deans of all 15 colleges and schools.

Faculty Recruitment Initiative, University of Washington. Developed and implemented the strategy and related funding from the Provost to incentivize the recruitment of a more inclusive and representative faculty by building coalitions of common interest among major stakeholders in faculty hiring. Major players: Provost, Board of Deans, Department Chairs, and Chairs of search committees. Impact: Minimum 10 annual offers/hires per year.

Symposium on "Enriching America Through the 21st Century: Enhancing Latino Postsecondary Completion," U.S. Department of Education. Conceptualized, organized, co-chaired, and raised funds to develop eighteen specific policy recommendations to give to the White House and the Department of Education on what we know that works and does not work to promote postsecondary completion. Focused on three areas of strategic intervention: accessing financial aid, enhancing academic competence, and empowering Latino families.

FRAGA-6

Central organizing concept was to put scholars, policy experts, and practitioners in direct contact to build a specific set of action items that were immediate, medium term, and longer term. Commissioned essays, responses, and specific policy recommendations will be made public within the next several months. Major players: Undersecretary of Education, President's Advisory Commission on Educational Excellence for Hispanics (PACEEH), Subcommittee on Higher Education of the PACEEH, Special Assistant to the President for Education, College Board, Excelencia in Education, selected scholars, policy experts, and practitioners. Impact: Planned presentations at major national meetings of Trio Programs including Upward Bound and GEAR-UP, national meetings of the College Board, and professional meetings of post-secondary administrators.

Two-way Immersion, Spanish-English School, Archdiocese of Seattle, WA. Conceptualized, advocated, established first two-way, Spanish-English elementary school in the Juan Diego Academy of Holy Rosary School, Tacoma, WA, Archdiocese of Seattle. At end of first year enrollment surpassed levels of the last twenty years. Major players: Archbishop Peter Sartain, Superintendent of Catholic Schools, Fulcrum Foundation, and Holy Rosary School. Impact: Enrollment at Pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, and first grade now at 20-25 maximum per grade; planned commitment to transform entire K-8 to two-way immersion over next seven years.

“Political Science in the 21st Century.” Conceptualized, co-chaired, organized, and co-authored the first-ever presidential report of the American Political Science Association (APSA) that identified, analyzed, and challenged an academic discipline to self-reflect on its practices of research, teaching, and professional career development to expand the capacity of political science as a profession to be more inclusive and representative, especially for historically underrepresented groups. Presentation at the National Press Club, Washington, DC. Major players: President of the APSA, Executive Director of the APSA, fourteen-member Task Force. Impact: sent to over 500 Departments of Political Science around the country.

Senior Scholar Invited Lecture Series (SSILS), University of Washington. Conceptualized, developed, and implemented mechanism to enhance recruitment of faculty by focusing on their intellectual expertise. Through SSILS was able to expose deans, department chairs, and senior faculty to the intellectual contributions made by accomplished scholars who might be appropriate for appointment to the University of Washington. Allows for an intellectual foundation and justification for considering appointment to be developed to see the direct benefits of building an inclusive faculty. Major players: Provost, deans, department chairs, and chairs of prospective search committees. Impact: over 20 scholars have given presentations at the UW through the SSILS; over 500 attendees at lectures.
